Joseph Otis Minott, Esq.
Executive Director and Chief Counsel
Clean Air Council

Executive Director and Chief Counsel, Joseph Otis Minott, Esq., supervises and provides legal advice for all Clean Air Council projects. Mr. Minott has developed statewide recognition for his work on transportation and urban air pollution issues. He has served on the Pennsylvania Department of Environmental Protection's Air Quality Technical Advisory Committee (AQTAC) and Environmental Justice Advisory Committee (EJAC), the City of Philadelphia's Air Pollution Control Board (APCB), and has over 30 years of community organizing experience. He holds an M.A. in political science from the University of Pennsylvania and a J.D. from Villanova University School of Law.

The Clean Air Council is a member-supported, nonprofit environmental organization dedicated to protecting everyone's right to breathe clean air. The Council works through public education, community advocacy, and government oversight to ensure enforcement of environmental laws.

The Council was founded in 1967 by a group of forward-looking community leaders, policy makers, and progressive business leaders. Headquartered in Philadelphia, the Council made a name for itself by the mid-1970s as the result of two major achievements: establishing and distributing a daily regional air quality index report (still used to this day); and forcing Pennsylvania to implement its vehicle emissions testing program. The Council has now grown to include 8,000 members and expanded its programmatic focus to include children's environmental health, energy, climate change, waste and recycling, and transportation. The Council has also established an indoor air quality resource center for the public and holds the Philadelphia area's largest Earth Day event, the annual Run for Clean Air.
